RACE TROUBLE IN AMERICA.

Race hatred is aflame in the "black belt" of the United States and the war between whites and blacks in Georgia shows no sign of coming to an end. Negr-hunting and shooting continued without check in Atlanta, the centre of the trouble.

The situation is becoming more desperate, and the better class are arming as rapidly as possible. Two London ladies are stated to have been among the white women attacked by the blacks. Both were beaten, and one was mutilated. A number of negroes were shot or beaten to death yesterday, and 237, most of them fully armed, were arrested in Brownville, a suburb of Atlanta. A detachment of police was dispatched by the negroes, who shot the officer commanding the detachment dead on the spot, while four of his men were wounded, and one was missing. The whites have sworn revenge. The blacks are either able to fall back upon strong reserves of negroes.

Serve up the courses for every man
The bumper 'til the last of the barley
And drink to the health of the King

For money a squire is bound to give bang In the town of Berwick, and here the Lang
For which he has the right to do so, When out King is the most of the bang

There are students for friends and scholars
For friends and scholars
For friends and scholars
For friends and scholars

So bring out the first and bring out the
Serve up the courses for every man
The bumper 'til the last of the barley
And drink to the health of the King

There'll be lights on the bannister and
And a vera superior kind of high jinks When the Laird of Strathmore of thousands Of three

So bring out the first and bring out the
Serve up the courses for every man
The bumper 'til the last of the barley
And drink to the health of the King

The water of envy, then, bring to the mouth
Of many a millionaire glowerin' scotch.
His head he is shaking, the mournful Yankee,
An' sighin' all sorrowful, Et tu Brute?

So bring out the first and bring out the

ANTI FOREIGNISM IN CHINA.

Two recent events show that the antipathy of the Chinese to foreigners is apparently as deep rooted as ever.
Attacks upon foreigners, one of which terminated fatally, are reported from Peking and Shanghai. The Shanghai outrage which occurred last Sunday seems to have been a gratuitous attack upon two men who were innocently walking from Woonsoo to Shanghai.
The report of the incident received from Shanghai does not make any suggestion that provocation was given.
Apparently the Chinese seeing only two men thought that they would be able to vent their hatred of foreigners generally upon them without fear of reprisals. It is not in their temperament to think that although the reprisals would not ensue immediately they would inevitably come sooner or later and would lose nothing in severity through being deferred. Fortunately the foreigners were not badly injured, though this was due to their good fortune, not to the forbearance of their assailants. The murder of an Englishman at Peking is shrouded in mystery as the messages from the north do not even give his name.
The report however seems to be authentic. These manifestations of lawlessness on the part of the people and incompetence on the part of the officials occur at a most unfortunate time for China. She is tentatively putting forward a claim to be placed on the same footing as Japan, which would involve of course the abolition of the other powers' rights of extraterritoriality. Such claims are utterly put out of court by the succession of outrages which have stained the pages of her recent history. It is not pretended of course that an isolated case of attack upon a foreigner should be allowed to dispose finally of China's assertion that her judicial system is sufficiently trustworthy for the powers to agree to entrust the lives, liberties and properties of their nationals to the care of Chinese officials. But a succession of outrages, committed in portions of the Empire nearly two thousand miles apart, demonstrates that the Chinese officials are either without the power or the inclination to keep the people in hand. Evidence seems to show that indirectly the anti-foreign feeling is fanned by the very officials who desire to pass as capable of dealing justly and dispassionately between foreigners and their own people. It is obvious that the Chinese Government will have to show considerably more backbone and more real desire to prove its fitness to regulate the relation between the people and foreigners before it can hope to gain support for its perfectly natural wish to have a free hand. Japan, it must be remembered, did not secure the abolition of extra-territoriality until 1894, by which time she had established a strong Government and had adopted the western Parliamentary system. Even to-day extra-territorial-ity prevails in Turkey, a country which, corrupt and inefficient though its Government is, has progressed farther along the path of civilization than has China. Each incident such as those at Shanghai and Peking renders more remote China's prospects of achieving the position of independence that all her well-wishers would like to see her attain.

If wisdom guides her counsels she will make a resolute attempt to show the world that she has the ability and knowledge necessary to put her house in order. When she has proved her capability of looking after her domestic affairs satisfactorily and efficiently she will have no difficulty in persuading the other powers that she is fit to exercise definite control in regard to those matters in which the interests of foreigners are involved.

It is with the deepest regret that we have to announce that the condition of the Rev. Sir Matthew Nathan necessitates the postponement indefinitely of the Birthday Ball and reception and all other immediate engagements. In taking this step His Excellency acts with regret and upon medical advice. Everywhere genuine sympathy is felt for His Excellency, and the whole Colony will be pleased when he is able to get about again.

An original-minded clergyman, the Rev. T. Allen Moxon of Soho, recently set the girls of St. Anne's Day School the task of writing truthful essays on boys. The results, which were published in the Parish paper, are amusing and in some instances betray a recognition of facts which might have been expected to escape the girls' notice. Madge Robbins declares, "A boy has a better chance of being educated than a girl, because boys attend school regularly, but a girl often has to stop at home and mind the baby—I should pity the poor baby if a boy had to mind him." Joany Bershach depicts two types of the species. "A good boy helps his mother and fetches errands, and gets up early to make his father's breakfast, and if he has any brothers and sisters he cleans their boots and cleans their knives; while a bad boy sits about and never washes himself properly, and reads and then gets short-sighted and has to wear glasses." On the dress question the views expressed are essentially feminine. One remarks: "Boys' dress is not so pretty as girls' as they get their clothes much dirtier than girls. If a boy has a light blouse on, he will get it as dirty as a sweep's dress in a day, but a girl will wear a white dress nearly all the week. If a boy knows the horrid washing day and had to keep home from school to mind baby, he would take more care of his clothes." Lottie Marks adds: "Boys wear trousers and girls wear frocks. There is one good thing about boys; they do not need suits so much as girls need dresses; but girls always like to talk about all the latest fashions, and say "Oh! I should like this dress or this hat." With regard to the hair, several girls comment on the desirability of a parting. "A boy," says Ida Locks, "should have a nice parting in his hair. I think a parting makes a boy's hair look tidy." On the question of sympathy, too, the girls speak in no uncertain voice. "If a boy," says Florence Bonneyworth, "has any trouble, it is always a girl that is sorry for him, for a boy is never sorry for another: he thinks he can help himself." May Treleven says the same: "A boy always comes to his sister if there is anything the matter with him, and his sister always ought to help him as much as she can." Another point of view is also expressed by Florence Rolla, who says: "While girls are useful in some ways, we could never do without boys."

There has been a slight change for the worse in the mortality figures for Colombo, says the Times of Ceylon. For the week ended the 13th October, the proportion was 34.6 per mille as against 31.3 of the preceding week. But the figures are, however, very appreciably less than the figures for the corresponding week of last year, which were 50.3 per mille! At the last meeting of the Colombo Municipality the Chairman indicated that the ideal of the Council's Health Department ought to be to have a death rate of not more than 20 per mille. This is what we have contended all along, but we are a long way from it so far.

Ugrateful Chair Coolies.

Apparently generosity when dealing with chair coolies is a mistaken policy. At all events this would appear to be so from a case heard at the Magistrate's court yesterday in which Mr. A. H. Rennie prosecuted 20 coolies for refusing hire. Only 13 of the men appeared, and it was stated that Mr. Rennie had been accustomed to pay the coolies much more than their legal hire for going to his house, on Bowen Road level, but on the representation of some of his neighbours that this practice made the coolies make extortionate demands on them he reduced his scale of payment to ten cents more than the legal fare. On the reduction being made the coolies appear to have thought that they would get back the balance if they stuck out for it and gave Mr.
Rennie a great deal of trouble. A few evenings ago matters reached a crisis when Mr. Rennie was entertaining a number of guests and the coolies refused him although offered 15 cents more than the fare. They were convicted by Mr. C. D. Melbourne and ordered to pay fines of $2 each.

LAME BACK.

THIS ailment is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles and may be cured by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm two or three times a day and rubbing the pain vigorously at each application. If this does not afford relief, bind on a piece of flannel slightly dampened with Pain Balm, and quick relief is almost sure to follow.
For sale by all chemists and druggists.

They are our protectors, our helpers, and sometimes are better comforters than girls. Madge Robbins, too, remarks, "Boys delight in tormenting their sisters, and seem to delight to make them cry; but if you are ill, I think a boy is very sympathetic, and this makes up for his tormenting."

LOCAL AND COAST NEWS.

The German Mail of the 10th October was delivered in London on the 7th Nov.

The dollar to-day reached 2/3, the highest rate it has touched for many years.

An inquest is to be held, at the Magistrate, on Saturday morning in connection with the death of the late Mr. W. E. Craig, who died on the 6th, instant under circumstances pointing to suicide.

To-day is indexed in the Chinese almanac as Ling (beginning of winter) and the temperature this morning will make residents feel that the Chinese know something about forecasting the change of the seasons.

Raub Crushing.
Messrs. E. S. Kadoorie and Co. are in the receipt of telegraphic advices from Singapore informing them that the crushing of the Raub Australian Gold Mining Co. for the past 7 weeks yielded 814 ozs smelted gold, from 5393 tons stone.

Another Suicide.
There is yet another suicide to chronicle. This evening a Chinese girl, aged about 18, took opium and died from the effects. It is alleged that a brother of the girl's sold some property in Canton which had been left to her by her father-in-law, and in consequence she took her life.

The Review.

No special traffic arrangements are being enforced by the police in connection with to-morrow's review of the troops at Happy Valley. A good number of police will, however, be stationed along the route and motorists are requested to go by Queen's Road to the Valley while chairs are advised to go by way of the Praya.

Lecture at Union Church.

This evening at the Union Church Library Club Dr. J. C. Thomson will deliver a lecture on "The bits and stings of venomous animals." This lecture is to be illustrated by some fine specimens which have been kindly lent by the City Hall Authorities, and it is hoped there will be a large audience present to hear Dr.
Thomson. Mr. H. Hursthouse will take the chair at 9 p.m. prompt.

Typhoon Relief Fund.

Further claims have been considered by sub-committee and up to the 3rd November relief to the amount of $24,860.00 has been given for 774 Chinese-owned boats, and $200 for one European boat. 16 cases of Chinese widows and orphans have been dealt with, grants to the amount of $992.00 having been made; while the sum of $103.45 has been paid to the widow of a European. A payment of $15,000 has already been made to the Tung Wa Hospital on account of expenses incurred in burying dead bodies and maintaining destitute.

FRANCE.

LONDON, November 6.

The Chamber of Deputies has approved of M. Clemenceau's declaration by 395/96.
The declaration further said, that while the peace of the world depends on force of arms, it cannot disarm. France will be careful to maintain and develop the alliance, contracted in the interests of peace, and also well-tried friendships.

THE MALAY STATES.

LONDON, November 6.

Mr. Churchill stated in the House that Lord Elgin was satisfied the immediate abolition of licensed gambling in the Malay States was impracticable, but steps had been taken to restrict it as far as possible, and to prepare the way for an eventual abolition.

MOROCCO.

LONDON, November 6.

The unrest in Morocco is increasing.
Boats from the French cruisers were stoned on approaching the pier at Tangier and the crew hoisted, several of the crews were injured. Rains' men have seized the power station of the Spanish Electric Lighting Co., at Arzila. Spain has sent a strong reinforcement. Two French officers and forty native riflemen have been killed

THE GOVERNOR'S HEALTH.

The following Bulletin was issued at Government House at 9.55 a.m.:

His Excellency the Governor is progressing favourably; had a fair night.

(Sd.) J. M. ALEXANDER, M.D.

On enquiry at Government House this afternoon we were informed that His Excellency was still progressing favourably.

The first dance of the season at the City Hall, took place last evening when the Scottish Masonic Quadrille Association gave the opening dance of a series that are to be held under their auspices. The start made was a most auspicious one there being upwards of 200 people present. Indeed so unexpectedly large were the number of dancers that St. Andrew's Hall had to be used instead of the Old Chamber of Commerce Room which it was at first thought would accommodate the party. Music supplied by Machado's Calcutta string band and a programme of ten dances was gone through by a little after midnight, refreshments being served during an interval between the dances. The dance was under the immediate supervision of Mr. J. Blake, Hon. Secretary of the Quadrille Association, and his pronounced success bears testimony to the way he and the influential committee by whom he is assisted have worked. Messrs.
McLeod and Sibbit were the M.C.'s.
Messrs. F. Howell and A. W. Hill the stewards, while Messrs. Howell, Tillock, Wirt and J. Blake were on the bridge committees and saw to the entertainment of those who did not care to dance. In the unavoidable absence of Dr. Jordan Captain Marchant (Secretary of the City Hall) opened the dance by asking gentlemen to choose their partners for the first set of dances. In view of the great success which is now assured for the Masonic Quadrille Club's dances it is extremely probable that a Masonic Ball on a large scale will be held at the City Hall later in the season.

SHANGHAI RACES.

A Surprise in the Champions.

The defeat of Brockton by Morik in the Champions must have come as a great surprise to the general public at Shanghai. Morik, who was expected to win the race, followed the performance of the horses. Brockton, who was expected to win the race, followed the performance of the horses. Brockton, who was expected to win the race, followed the performance of the horses.

The following are the results of the races received yesterday after we went to press.

CANTON'S NEW VICE-ROY.

Arrival Delayed By Rough Weather.

His Excellency Chou Fu, the new Viceroy of Canton, was expected to arrive in the Colony this afternoon from the north, by the China Merchant's steamer "An Ping." Owing to the rough weather outside the steamer, which was expected during the morning, had not arrived up to the time we went to press and consequently arrangements for the Viceroy's reception were somewhat dislocated.

The large Chinese gunboat "Sun Ho" arrived here last night, accompanied by two smaller gunboats and a large launch, and brought many Chinese officials to welcome His Excellency and the large party who accompanied him. His Excellency's suite totals upwards of a hundred officials and retainers of all ranks, there being no fewer than 40 mandarins in the party who are no doubt to be promoted to office at Canton.

His Excellency the Governor had the "Victoria" in waiting all day to convey his A. D. C. on board the "An Ping" to welcome the new Viceroy and elaborate preparations were made at the Hotel.

MATTERS FEMININE.

Hatty's London Letter.

LONDON, October 6.

DEAR ELIZABETH—Colours and non-glittering gowns are to rank as first favourites for personal adornment, this winter—prophetically called—the white winter. Pearls, moonstones and white coral will all be brought into requisition by the fashionable woman, who has decided, that, for the time being at any rate, it is not good taste to glitter. Very artistic designs in corsets are being shown in the shops, such as ribbons, studded with moonstones or opals, which may be threaded in and out of Victorian curls. One famous Jeweller has designed, for a leader of fashion, a corset of lilacs of the valley formed from pearls, with pale green enamel leaves—truly a thing of beauty. Moonstones, as you are a sometime visitor to Ceylon, know are said by the superstitious to be a talisman against perils and dangers which beset our nearest and dearest, when worn on a silver chain.

Eubacteries used to trim costumes for the season follow the lead of jewelled ornaments, and need pearls, corals, turquoise and opals are being largely used in their manufacture.

The chemist of Dutch caps, were only a few of the new and unexpected in silver thread and seed pearls—will be affected by the well dressed woman, to say nothing of jewelled shoes and fans.

In fact we have said good-bye to sequins and sparkling stones for the present, because our ladies of fashion refuse to glitter.

Thin brass will be conspicuously used to trim hats. The latest mode of hair, which is guaranteed not to show in the hair.

With the return of brass into fashion, silver and gold ornaments as a valuable asset in the way of a trimming for dresses. Applied in embroidered widths, ribbon which has a lighter effect than a wide velvet band, as an edging to skirts.

To trim, and those of your friends and acquaintances who are laying in a store of petticoats for the season, let us recommend some made of washing alpaca, for everyday use. These washing alpaca can be obtained in pale colours to match or harmonise with the dress costumes with which they are to be worn. They look best ornamented with pipings or stitchings of black, or may have a border worked in a bold design. Shantung silk dyed in pretty shades, also makes useful petticoats and underskirts.

There is a delightful variety in the newest millinery. Striped feathers as a trimming are immensely popular, so are wings, and made up plumes of every description.

There are several varieties of hats of the millinery shops. Some have rounded bathing crowns, others show a high straight effect. A new shape known as the "Fair-bairn" is smart and does not require much trimming. Felt hats of Napoleon shape are becoming to young faces and are easy to trim at home because they only require a velvet band with a buckle or a stiff bow at the back, and a velvet quill resting against the up-turned hair in front.

A pretty shape in velvet hats is a modified Dolly Varden, trimmed with grapes and ribbon to harmonise with the fruit in colour.

The picturesque red riding hood cloak for children with serviceable hood attached, is now being made with sleeves and coat under-fronts and are both charming and useful in this modernised form.

STUDIES IN CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

VI.

Last evening in the Union Church the Rev. O. H. Hickling delivered the sixth lecture of this course, dealing with "Mental Healing." He said: Having examined Christian Science teachings as to the human constitution, we propose to consider its doctrine of Sickness and Healing. From our previous studies we are prepared to hear that Christian Science denies the reality of all bodily ailments and diseases. If you ignore them, the symptoms depart, because the sickness is only apparent and so forth. Although fatigue can scarcely be classed with disease, Christian Science declares it to be needless. "If it were not for what the human mind says of the body, the body would never weary, any more than an inanimate wheel; for the consciousness of truth rests us more than hours of repose in unconsciousness" (218). So the alternation of activity and rest, which is our experience of what prevails in the surrounding world, is denied to man. As Christian Science approach to fall understanding they expect to need less and less sleep—meanwhile, however, we do not know of any approach to this state of constant wakefulness and perpetual motion.

It may possibly cheer some to be taught that if they become students of Christian Science all physical conditions become a matter of indifference. Thus no bodily exercise need be taken for health's sake, or to increase our working efficiency. "Not because of muscular exercise, but by reason of the blacksmith's faith in it, his arm becomes stronger" (196). We may well wonder how it happens that blacksmiths, as a rule, come to have such exceptional, unflinching and unvarying faith. Truly "a mighty man is he," in more ways than the poet thought.

Amidst all denials and marvellous affirmations, the origin of sickness and concomitant evils is left by Christian Scientists in mystery. How did it come about that man created for himself pain and the like, by means of an unreal something, which was not in him as created in the image of God? "If mortal mind must create an illusive body, why did it make an unhealthy one?"

We must make reference here to the subject of Death. When a Christian says "There is no death," (429), we expect him to mean that the soul survives when the body falls away. Not so Mrs. Eddy. In the glossary Death is explained as "an illusion; the opposite of Life" (capital L), (384). Somewhat surprised we search for means of an unreal something, which was not in him as created in the image of God? "If mortal mind must create an illusive body, why did it make an unhealthy one?"

cess. Together with Christian Scientists, we gratefully recognize that we derive our life-powers from our God and Father. Surely there is no strain upon intellect when it is affirmed by appealing to, drawing upon the source of our life, it may be replenished. This is one raison d'être of Christian Prayer. That the mind and nerves frequently have a co-operative part in this seems to be well established. The manner of this and the theory of it fall to be considered.

The knowledge of the power of mind over body is by no means a recent acquisition. Harodius tells of a king's son who had been dumb from his birth; but found his voice when he saw his father about to be killed. It is scarcely reasonable to deny all the asserted cures at the famous shrines of India, or Epidaurus, or Mecon, and in the presence of the relics of the saints. The cure of the King for skin disease was for long a general belief. So late as the reign of Louis XVI an enquiry into the genuineness of the alleged cures resulted in the establishment of a few genuine cases; Macbeth's physician declared that the patient ministered to himself, John Hunter states that "even tumours have yielded to the stroke of a dead man's hand." Abernethy says: "You may see a person with gout who is almost unable to move on account of pain; but produce a shock on his nervous system by telling him that the bone is set, and he will scamper about like a lamp

HISTORY OF BANK NOTES.

A writer gives some interesting facts about the history of bank notes. It is difficult (he says) to determine who first introduced paper money.

We are told that the Chinese used a kind of bank-note as far back as 1117 B.C., and that the same nation in 800 A.D. had a paper currency which was graphically described as "flying money."

The Japanese, though much behind the Chinese, had a paper money of their own, and in 1661 issued a "Goldfish" note, which might be described in present day language as deposit receipts which passed from hand to hand, and from which various amounts were taken from time to time, without the note being negotiable for the balance outstanding. They first came into use in 1670, but were not legalised under the reign of Gen. Anno. The Bank of England commenced active business in 1694, and very soon issued bank notes, but as £20 was the smallest sum, the Government refused to accept them. It was not until 1794 that the issue of bank notes was legalised.

An issue of £1,200,000 was made in 1802, and in 1810 and 1811.
